

MEXICO PAYS HOMAGE TO UNKNOWN WARRIOR

PARIS, Sept. 28.—Mexico yesterday honored France's "unknown warrior" in connection with the French government's recognition of the Mexican centennial celebration.

The various ministries flew Mexican flags, and the Mexican charge d'affaires went to the Arc de Triomphe and placed a wreath upon the "unknown soldier's" tomb.

Peeling the Skin is Better Than Bleaching

Ever since the discovery that ordinary mercurized wax would actually peel off a discolored complexion, its use by ladies as a substitute for bleaching creams has grown rapidly. A perfect complexion can be maintained indefinitely if this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficial cleansing, clearing and preservative action is quickly apparent, and ladies who have been paying high prices for "special bleach" from beauty specialists, soon recognize that mercurized wax outclasses them all. It has become so popular that it can be obtained at all druggists, who have it in original one-ounce packages. The favorite way of using is to apply it like cold cream, before retiring, washing it off in the morning.

The saxolite lotion for wrinkles and flabbiness has also become extremely popular. One ounce of powdered saxolite is dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this has a remarkable effect in erasing wrinkles and in improving contour.

This Car Should Name Itself

The minute you looked at this car the chances are you reached for a pencil and wrote the name across the face of the drawing.

It is not hard to recognize a distinctive design of this kind, and no doubt your eye knowledge of automobiles in general has helped you to solve today's problem without a moment's hesitation.

If not that lucky, don't forget the open air prescription.

Stand on any safe and handy curb, don't forget, and look 'em over. This car is sure to roll by in a mighty short while. And that's that.

Treasure the name carefully, together with the rest you have already worked out, because at the end of thirty days you are going to have your chance to send all the car names to the "Walk Right-Drive Right" editor of The Washington Times, together with your fifty-word suggestion on how to lessen accidents and how to promote co-operation between driver and pedestrian—how to reduce the high toll of accidents.

Rewards aggregating $250 will be paid to the successful contestants.

WANDERER TO DIE FRIDAY FOR MURDER OF THREE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 28.—Carl Wanderer, convicted slayer of his wife, her unborn babe and "a ragged stranger," will go to the gallows next Friday, according to an announcement from the governor's office last night.

Wanderer lost his last fight for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment or another reprieve when the division of Pardons and Paroles recommended to Governor Small that Wanderer's petition be denied.

Two petitions were filed with the governor by counsel for the convicted murderer, a former soldier, whose last reprieve, until September 30, was granted at the request of American Legion officials. One was for commutation of sentence to life. The other was for a further stay of execution.

The petitions were based on the grounds that Wanderer had been declared insane by a number of experts and that evidence upon which he was convicted was of doubtful character and that no motive for the crime was shown.

FIGHT WAGE AWARD TO DOMESTIC WORKERS

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Sept. 28.—The boarding house keepers of this city are up in arms against the increase in wages granted by the arbitration court to servants. They are also no little concerned over the court's provision that a fourteen hours' break must be given each day to domestic workers between services.

It is contended by the boarding house owners that they cannot at the present rates charge to boarders pay the higher wages demanded, and even if extra wages were allowed, the fourteen-hour provision will make necessary a second staff, and this would inevitably drive them out of business.

There is a little sting in the kick of the providers of the boarding-house prunes. They say that the enforcement of the award would mean throwing out of work of thousands of these servants who now have good positions.

The World Do Move

Yesterday

Ten years ago, the airplane was an experiment.
Twenty years ago, the wireless didn't function.
Thirty years ago, the automobile was declared impractical.

Today

We're trying to talk to Mars.
We're trying to shoot a rocket to the moon.
We're working on the problem of taking fuel from the air.

Tomorrow

Who can tell?
Perhaps we shall have harnessed the sunlight and the heat of the inner earth.
Maybe the folks on other, older planets will be telling us how to use lightning, how to control hurricanes and floods, how to live without sleep or food.

Every Day

The march of events is so fast that each hour brings forth new wonders in this every-day fairyland of ours. Each event in daily history, great and small, has an effect on the ultimate outcome.

There's only one certain method of keeping abreast of the world's chronology. Read a good newspaper. There are dozens of them. For the best resume of current history, interestingly set forth, we recommend

LUX

WHISK one or two teaspoonfuls of Lux into a thick lather in half a bowlful of very hot water. Add cold water till lukewarm. Dip the stockings up and down, pressing suds repeatedly through soiled spots.

Rinse in 3 lukewarm waters. Squeeze water out—do not wring. Dry stockings indoors or in the shade; never hang on or over a radiator.

Stockings clocked or embroidered in contrasting colors should be dried with a cloth or tissue paper inside.
